Using our Website

You can access our website home page and browse our site without disclosing your personal data. Any personal information that site visitors voluntarily choose to provide in order to receive free electronic newsletters, participate in periodic polls and surveys and/or to complete any of our online application forms IS NOT shared with third parties unless stated otherwise. This will ensure all personal information is secured and remains confidential.

Use of Cookies

A cookie is a small text file containing a unique identification number that is transferred from a website to the hard drive of your computer so that the website may identify separate visitors to the site and track users' activities on the website. A cookie will not let a website know any personally identifiable information about you, such as your real name and address. Rituals for Recovery uses cookies only to keep track of how many people visit the Rituals for Recovery website and how frequently each page is visited. Each individual movement of any user cannot be tracked while on the Rituals for Recovery site. Cookies are only used to track page popularity for statistical purposes and to improve the quality of the site and meet your needs. (For more information on cookies, please check your browser's settings.)

Links on our Website

Because Rituals for Recovery wants your website experience to be informational and resourceful, our Website also provides several links to third party sites.

Rituals for Recovery assumes no responsibility for the information practices of sites you can access through our site. We encourage you to review each site's privacy policy before disclosing any personally identifiable information.

3. Consent & Disclosure -The only personal information that Rituals for Recovery collects is with your knowledge and consent. You can choose not to disclose any personal information we may ask you to provide. However, a decision to withhold some personal information can result in our inability to provide you with our services. Further, you can withdraw your consent to the collection, use or disclosure of your personal information at any time, subject to any legal requirements and reasonable notice.
4. Limiting Collection - The amount and type of information that the Rituals for Recovery collects is limited only to that which is necessary to fulfill the purposes identified. Rituals for Recovery will ask for the information it requires directly from the individual. Personal information will be collected using procedures which are fair, transparent, and lawful. You can choose to disclose as much or as little personal information as you are comfortable with. As noted in Principle 3, a decision to withhold some personal information can prevent us from providing you with our services.
5. Limiting Use, Disclosure and Retention - Rituals for Recovery will use your personal information only for the purposes for which it was collected. Your information will not be disclosed without your knowledge and consent, unless permitted or required by law. Your personal information will be retained only if necessary, to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected, and in compliance with any laws surrounding information retention. If all identified purposes for the use of your personal information have been exhausted, we will destroy the information or render it unidentifiable.
6. Accuracy - To ensure the reliable delivery of services and information, your personal information will be kept accurate, complete, and up to date. We assume that the information that you provide to us is accurate. If at any time your personal information changes, we hope to be informed of it immediately. If you contact us with a request, we will take appropriate steps to update or correct the personal information in our possession that you have previously provided to us.
7. Safeguards - Rituals for Recovery employs several safeguards to protect your personal information against loss or theft, as well as unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use, or modification. Such safeguards include physical measures, for example locked filing cabinets, restricted access to offices, and limiting access on a "need to know" basis, use of passwords and encryption. Procedures for implementing these measures are communicated to all employees to ensure compliance with this principle.

8. Openness - Rituals for Recovery has easily understandable and readily available specific information about its policies relating to the management of personal information. Our policy is always available on Rituals for Recovery website, www.ritualsforrecovery.com, on the home page under the section: "Privacy Policy".
9. Individual Access - Upon request, we will inform you if we hold any personal information about you and provide you with access to this information. If we have any personal information about you, we will also tell you for what purposes it is used for, if applicable. You have a right to update any personal information that we hold on you. Should you wish to see the full contents of your information that is on file, you must make a formal written request and mail or email it to:

Amanda Willett, Interim Director Privacy Officer Rituals for Recovery,

91 King St. E Suite #107, Bowmanville, ON L1C 5E2

Email: info@ritualsforrecovery.com

We will respond to you within thirty (30) days after receipt of your written request or will notify you if a longer period is required by us to fully address your request, provided that an extension of thirty (30) day period is permitted by applicable privacy laws.
